Mayor creates code committee

Better enforcement needed

HURON HIGH'S HOMECOMING COURT — The annual Homecoming Day of the Huron High School will be held Friday. A hometown parade and other related activities are scheduled. This year's homecoming Court includes (from left)

Miss Cheryl Laurain, Allyson Borg, Cheryl Passini, Karen Nichols and Debbie Roberts, who was absent when the picture was taken. The queen will be crowned at halftime at the football game between Huron and Harper Woods High.

The problems of code enforcement in Romulus and the concern of organizations that housing and building codes are not being effectively enforced in the city have prompted Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael to form a Code Enforcement Committee.

The committee—the Romulus Code Enforcement Committee headed by Charles Hazen, industrial coordinator for Romulus—is the city administration's initial step toward bringing about a code enforcement program more responsive to the needs of citizens, business and industry.

The committee has been directed to come up with a comprehensive set of proposals. The committee is one of Mayor Carmichael's goals when assuming the office of mayor last May.

After weekly meetings, the committee will prepare position papers which it will submit to the mayor. The position papers "should call for the immediate and total enforcement of all existing laws (and others to be adopted by the city)" in the following ways—according to the committee's issued summary of action:

- Establishment of a procedure for prompt response to complaints of citizens received through all city offices;
- Enforcement and implementation of the certificate of occupancy requirements for all dwellings;
- Prosecution of owners or developers who have not registered and applied for a certificate of occupancy;
- Development of plans for the use of court injunctions to compel compliance, court-authorized direct action for the city, and court appointed helpers;
- Implementation of a systematic inspection program;

- Action by city agencies to repair any condition which renders a building dangerous, with the cost of the city's action assessed against the property and added to the tax rolls;

- Establishment of definitive guidelines by executive order and ordinance for re-inspections and continuances. The guidelines should require prosecution or civil action on abated violations within 30 days of the "grace period" notice;

- Recommendations of new ordinances;
- Establishment of a revolving fund to enable the city to repair code violations, with the cost of the repairs to be collected from the owner and the right of repair to be secured by placing a lien on the property;
- Establishment of an education program to stimulate community and individual responsibility in the surrounding environment;

- Assignment of a member of the mayor's staff to oversee and coordinate the program outlined and the ongoing programs of all departments involved in housing and environmental quality;
- Implementation of the recommendations of the mayor, include relating to code enforcement, and the surrounding environment.

Huron High Prepares for Homecoming Day

Huron High School will observe its annual homecoming day this week, featuring a parade through the downtown area of New Boston on Thursday afternoon starting at 5 p.m. and a student-led bonfire at the high school at 7:30 p.m. between Huron High School and Harper Woods starting at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The Homecoming queen and her winners of the float awards will be announced at halftime festivities.

Vying for Homecoming Queen this year are:

Miss Allyson Borg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Borg, 30367 King Rd., Romulus.

Miss Cheryl Laurain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laurain, 37580 Willow Rd., New Boston.

Miss Karen Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols, 29151 Van Born Rd., New Boston.

Miss Cheryl Passini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Passini, 28959 Grix Rd., New Boston.

And Miss Deborah Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Roberts, 23676 Ada St., Trenton.

Homecoming festivities will end with a dance at the high school from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Homecoming ruled success despite fire

The Romulus High School's Homecoming Parade held last Friday was termed "a real big success," Miss Brenda Blanton, parade activities chairman, reported.

In saluting her committee for their part in organizing the event, Miss Blanton said, "if it hadn't been for their help, it couldn't have happened." Committee members were Misses Rita Crews, Brenda Peters and Wanda Stewart.

The parade this year not only included floats by classes and school clubs but also entries by Romulus city officials.

The City of Romulus D.P.W., Water and Sewer Department entered a 90 horse vehicle, with an authentic Indian, cowboy and western lady. This was in keeping with the theme of the Homecoming parade, "How the west was won."

The western lady was Miss Elvera Fischer better known as "Tootie." The cowboy was Walter Kusak and the Indian, Watson Harris.

"How could the west have been won without the type of pioneering the D.P.W., Water and Sewer Department are accomplishing for Romulus," was the comment of department officials.

The parade, according to Brenda, was among the best of recent years, with the winning float of a train entered by the senior class.

Miss Tammy Owens, 17, 15647 Isabelle St., Romulus, was selected Homecoming queen and found herself upstaged during halftime activities by the pyrotechnics of the Romulus Auto Club. The club's burning enthusiasm for realism resulted in a fire that reduced its float to ashes, bring in the Romulus Volunteer Fire Department and delaying the second half by more than 30 minutes.

Brenda cited city officials, the mayor and city clerk, who had been expected to ride sedately in a car, waving along the parade route, but who surprised everyone by preparing a float depicting "How the West Was Lost".

The costumed officials, according to Brenda, were among the highlights of the day.

Parade organizers were especially pleased by the crowds along the parade route who entered into the spirit of the day with applause cheers.

Brenda further reported the stands full for the game. But, she said, the one disappointment was Romulus's 32-8 loss of the game to River Rouge.

"You can't have everything," she said.

Election to be published

Because of plans to publish results of the Nov. 3 elections in area communities, next week's issues of the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman may not be distributed until Thursday, Nov. 5.

Every effort will be made to have the newspapers in the mail by the usual Wednesday morning time, but deadlines needed to get election results could force the Thursday distribution.

Romulus officials urge voters to go the polls

Although there are no local issues to be decided in the Nov. 3 General Election, Romulus administrative officials Monday issued a community-wide and urgent appeal to voters to get to the polls and vote.

Races for Governor, U.S. Congress, Michigan State Legislature and county offices will be up for voter decision.

In addition voters are being asked to decide three state proposals and choose among candidates seeking terms on the Michigan Supreme Court, State Court of Appeals, Wayne County Circuit Court and Probate Court, as well as the District Court.

Incumbent Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus), who is seeking his fourth term, is opposed by Republican Dale C. Wagenknecht, of Petersburg, Monroe County, for the 38th State District post.

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Taylor) is seeking reelection to U.S. Congress from the 15th District. He is being opposed by Republican Ernie C. Fackler.

Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) is seeking another term as the senator from the 13th State Senatorial District. He is opposed by Anthony (Bill) Bielecki (R-Westland).

The three state proposals calling for voter consideration are the following:

Proposal A - a proposal to authorize bonds for low income housing.

Proposal B - a proposal to change the minimum voting age to 18 years.

Pro Team thanks residents for help

To the Editor:

The Pro Team would like to thank all of the residents of Van Buren Township for the interest they have shown in the Nov. 3 election issues and particularly, of course, for the considerations and courtesies given our candidacies, individually and collectively.

For some among us, this has been our first experience as candidates. And, regardless of what some may think, we must say we have been pleasantly surprised time and again for the sincere interest that a vast number of people—in fact, the majority of them—do have in what happens with their local government.

If it is not out of place, may we note here that we are having a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday Oct. 30 at our headquarters building in downtown Belleville, mainly to discuss and explain the factual aspects of consolidation, charter township and present township operation. However, other questions also will be accepted and coffee and donuts will be served.

Once again, in this—our last chance to appear in public print before the election—may we again thank you, the newspaper and all of the wonderful fellow citizens who have so graciously and sincerely encouraged our effort. We frankly expect this association to be a long one...and look forward to it.

Resident questions Bly Slate statements

To the editor:

An open letter to all residents of Van Buren Township:

I feel it is my duty to bring some facts to the attention of the taxpayers of Van Buren Township. Literature has been circulated on various topics and I find the contents of that literature to be nothing but confusing mistruths and suppositions.

I will answer here the statements on housing, recreation, city status, garbage dumps issued by the Bly Slate. (I have no comment on trailer parks.)

I personally object to the phrase "garbage dumps", continually used by the Bly Slate. If Mr. Bly were more informed of our Township he would know, as I and many others do know, that trash and garbage are two separate things, and that, according to township ordinance, "garbage" is not permitted in township trash pickup and warrants direct violation if one is found to be committing this offense.

To continue further, Mr. Bly states, roundabout, that the township has, or will, renew the land fill permit for Ecorse Road. This is not true. Another fact is: Van Buren Township has no land fill (or more commonly known to Bly followers as garbage dumps) in operation at the present time.

All I have to say about Mr. Bly's recreation plan is this: Where and when do you intend to purchase enough land for a township park and buy necessary equipment for $150,000?

A few more facts: "the new developments" do have recreational lands set aside, the township does have a landing on Belleville Lake and the township does have skating rinks (and a tennis court, ball diamond and a summer recreation program is available.).

Mr. Bly states that by becoming a Charter Township we cannot be annexed. Sorry, wrong again. The only local municipality that cannot be annexed is a city. Therefore, townships of any kind are subject to annexation by neighboring cities at any time (except during incorporation or consolidation procedures). Then he goes on to state that we cannot "burden ourselves with the many responsibilities, including roads, police protection, fire departments, etc." and that we cannot afford these responsibilities.

In his statement on housing, however, Mr. Bly states says that in order for individual home building to increase "we must secure a climate for realistic investments by providing paved roads, street lights, police protection and fiscal stability..." — the very things we cannot afford or should "burden" ourselves with. I wish he would make up his mind.

Also in the housing statement, Mr. Bly implies Van Buren uses a federal government building code and a township code. The fact is that Van Buren Township has adopted the national building code titled "Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc. — the Basic Building Code, 1970".

This is not a code set by the federal government. It is a basic code and the township prints and has on file a more specific supplement in addition to the "BOCA One and Two Family Dwellings" supplement. The BOCA code does not have low standards but rather, reasonable, good-quality-producing standards.

I would like to know just exactly what is wrong with modular homes? A close survey shows most modular homes are built even better than a house built from scratch.

It is my opinion the Bly Slate should familiarize itself with Van Buren Township before they criticize it or its officials. I ask you the voting, taxpaying residents of Van Buren Township is this the kind of people you want running our Township government? A possible leader who cannot make up his mind and who does not know what the facts are? I hope this convinces you Mr. Bly is not the man for Van Buren.

The election is one week away. Contemplate what I have said here, don't be fooled or misled and use your own conscience to make the proper decision. By all means, vote.

Safety letter makes bus drivers laugh

To the Editor:

On Oct. 7 a letter appeared in the Romulus Roman concerning bus safety. I wish to thank the author of that letter for giving the bus drivers the best laugh we have ever had.

I would like to ask the People for Huron why the spotlight rests on bus safety for that week only? School bus drivers are required by state law to complete 12 hours of schooling every year.

On June 16—17 Huron Township drivers and their supervisor attended classes in Belleville. We were given the opportunity to learn many aspects of our job.

The highlight of our two-day sessions was the viewpoint of one board member on bus safety. She supposedly researched for three years on this subject. It was obvious to everyone she had never set foot on any of our buses or spoke to any of our drivers.

(There are only three board members who have shown enough concern for safety to inspect our buses. According to her, we should be allowed to appear before our Board of Education with our complaints. We should also walk off our jobs in protest of unsafe buses.

These views were expressed before an audience of 300 drivers, supervisors and instructors, all of whom met her feelings on bus safety with derision. Needless to say we were embarrassed for our township.

We can be thankful for our supervisor, Frank Brown. His attitude and interest, to say nothing of his concern for the bus drivers responsibilities, were very apparent during his impromptu speech to the 300 drivers present. He won the admiration of every driver in attendance from schools all over Michigan which they showed by standing, and by their generous applause. It was heartwarming to know that drivers, instructors and supervisors for miles around have respect for our supervisor, supporting us at a time when we obviously needed it.

The safety evaluation given the paper was based on two buses purchased in February 1970. They are the only buses in our fleet with the specifications outlined in that article.

We all have power steering—some mechanical and others woman power. Power to maneuver seven tons of bus with 66-80 students on board. Power to turn narrow and dangerous corners, to park in spaces many of you would not attempt to put your car into. Power to keep that seven tons plus on the road in hazardous weather. Only two buses have tell-tale warning lights inside.

The other 20 drivers use foot power to walk around the bus to check. The non-fogging glass consists of a frozen driver straddling a snow covered bus with a scraper in each hand, cleaning the windshields.

We are responsible and conscientious enough not to allow someone else to take a pat on the back for something we work at everyday. Last week the bus drivers activated a safety committee. It is the intention of that committee to bridge the gap between parents, students and drivers.

Students and drivers watch the Romulus Roman for future publications on our progress. We intend to have the best safety program Michigan has known. To start this program we are calling on every citizen and parent in Huron Township to attend Meet Your Bus Driver Night.

This program will be presented by Lee Goodney on Nov. 10 at 1:30 p.m. at the Huron High School. What do you say citizens?

Shall we unite to better our safety program? Remember yellow means caution. A school bus is on the road for a purpose. Proceed with caution. The sign on the back door reads "Stop-On Signal". When you see red flashers, please stop.

How tragic it would be if a child died because he placed his faith on your consideration for that yellow bus with the red flashers.

School bus safety begins with citizens and students cooperation with bus drivers. Lend us a hand in our project. Please, on behalf of the precious cargo we transport.

Nameless critic gets criticism in return

To the Editor:

In answer to "Loyal Cougar Fan" letter:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all Cougar football managers for the privilege my son, Donald, has had this year of participating in organized football.

It takes a dedicated person to give up his evenings four nights a week for practice and every Saturday evening, or Sunday afternoon for the game, just so our little boys of Belleville can learn the fundamentals of football.

Donald has not only learned sportsmanship; he has associated with a group of great people. To err is human and we are all human.

I think we should thank these men for devoting time to our children, not sit around looking for minor things to criticize them for in unsigned letters. I do thank them.

Mrs. Donald Walls

Township clerk defends her 'silence'

EDITOR'S NOTE: An investigation into Huron Township financial matters has started. Township Supervisor George Angel asks residents of the township to wait until a current audit going back three years is completed before it can be determined if any wrongdoing has occurred. The following letter was submitted by Mrs. Wilma Wilson, township clerk.

To the Editor:

I cannot make a statement to the public and the press at this time in regard to the audit in Huron Township as I am under oath to the Grand Jury of Wayne County, as a witness (for the Township of Huron).

No matter what accusations or insinuations are made by individuals in Huron Township or out, I take an oath extremely serious.

I will not be badgered or threatened into breaking my oath and divulging any information or discussion which was given in Grand Jury, even though it may cause me to lose the faith of some people in Huron Township.

I take my oath of office to that Township of Huron just as serious also.

When I swore to "support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of this state, and that I faithfully discharge the duties of the office of the Clerk of the Township of Huron according to the best of my ability, so help me God", I intended then and now to do just exactly that.

If fulfilling my duties is not always pleasant, easy or popular, it does not deter me from doing them as I see necessary.

When I am free to divulge information I will do so; however until then, come what may, I will do my utmost to uphold and honor my oath to the township and the court.

Wilma J. Wilson, Clerk of the Township of Huron

In the scene above taken at the Merriman Elementary School, the school's district newest facility, shows some of the children taking time out to enjoy some refreshments. Other open house affairs were held at the administration offices and Romulus High School Auditorium.

Huron residents unite on project

Many persons have asked, "what is the community school?" The following is a story about the community school in Huron. Mrs. Carol Jackson, a professional sign painter in Sumpter Township, told the community school director that the Head Start Hall in Sumpter was in need of painting, and that she was going to donate her time to paint nursery rhyme pictures on the walls, but she needed help and paint.

The Community school director then contacted Roger Kilponen, Huron High School art teacher, for help. Kilponen asked his art students for volunteers and 11 students were willing to help.

The next problem was paint. Many members of the community brought in cans of unused paint they had at home, but this was not enough, so stores in Belleville were contacted and four stores—Hamilton Hardware Co., Sumpter Ace Hardware, Box's Jeweler and Office Supplies and Gambles.

Huron High School students who participated in the project include Mike Kareha, Ray Stroud, Randy Cox, Rich Sobodash, Dave Kimery, Karen Raker, John Petri, Nancy Sowards, Bob Collum, Dennis Reeves and Milon Daleo.

Absentee ballots become available

Absentee voter ballots are available at the Romulus City Clerk's office, 36572 Goddard Rd. Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk, announced Monday.

Electoros who are physically unable to attend the polls, or will be out of town for the general election to be held Nov. 3 are eligible for absentee voter ballots.

The deadline for acceptance of absentee voter ballots applications is 2 p.m. Oct. 31. The clerk's office will be open on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Emergency absentee voter applications will be issued to any registered voter at any time prior to 4 p.m. on election day if he or she shall have become physically disabled or shall be absent from the city because of sickness or death in the family, which has occurred at a time which made it impossible to apply for absentee voter ballots by the deadline, Folmar said.

Strangled woman's husband awaits exam

Richard G. Moore, 41, of 36621 Wade St., Romulus, accused of the strangulation death of his wife during a family dispute, will have a preliminary court examination tomorrow.

Moore stood mute at his arraignment in Ann Arbor last Wednesday. He had been arrested Wednesday morning by Ann Arbor police after Moore's brother, Gary, 35, of Woodhaven, drove Moore and his wife, Mable, to the police station.

Police officers at Woodhaven reported that Mrs. Moore was killed while sitting in the family automobile in front of Gary Moore's residence.

Richard Moore, police say, had driven to the home of his brother with his wife to have Gary act as a referee in a dispute about money. The Richard Moores are parents of seven children.

Moore is alleged to have strangled his wife while Gary was preparing to dress.

When Gary got to the car, Richard asked his brother to get into the car and drive him to Ann Arbor where he was a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital.

When Gary discovered that his sister-in-law was dead, he convinced his brother to turn himself in and drove to the Ann Arbor police station.

Hit-run auto sought

Police look for fatal car, driver

An all-out search for a hit-and-run motorist who fatally injured a 16-year-old Romulus youth and injured his companion is under way throughout Wayne County.

Injured fatally while walking north on Goddard Rd., 200 feet south of Neville St., with three other teen-aged boys Oct. 17 was Ralph M. Green, 16, of 36892 Goddard Rd.

His companion, Gregory H. Staten, 14, of 11083 Shook Rd., was admitted to Wayne County General Hospital. He was released Oct. 20.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department reported that the boys were walking on the shoulder of the road when a north-bound car swerved and struck them.

Two others escaped injured. Green died in the Wayne County General Hospital early Oct. 18.

A county-wide alert has been issued to all area police agencies, Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch announced.

Sheriff's investigating officers reported that two witnesses identified the hit-and-run vehicle as a dark colored 1965 or 66 Pontiac. Police reported that the car should have a damaged right front or right side.

Information on this or any similar vehicle should be phoned into the Sheriff's Detective Bureau at PA 1-2222 or the Romulus Police at 941-3200.

Voters to choose Groth or Sabo

Voters in Wayne County's 24th District will decide Nov. 3 who will represent them on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for the next two years.

Seeking voter approval for the 24th District post are Democrat John N. Sabo Jr., a Taylor barber, and Republican Roger Groth of Westland.

The 24th District, with 65 voting precincts, embraces the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren and the cities of Belleville, Romulus and Wayne and parts of Taylor, Westland and Dearborn Heights.

Sabo defeated incumbent Edmund Bizek in the August primary election. District Court Judge James B. Stone seeks his first elective term as judge of the 34th District Court, Romulus. He is unopposed in the non-partisan judicial race.

Judge Stone was appointed to the bench following the resignation of Francis D. Ross shortly after the 34th District court was created.

Proposal C is simple, plain; stop parochiaid

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are two guest editorials written by a proponent and an opponent to Proposal C on the Nov. 3 ballot. Dr. Ken Carman of Garden City tells readers why the proposed Constitutional amendment should be passed, while Kay Beard of Inkster gives her views on why the proposal should be defeated.

The purpose and intent of Proposal C is plain and simple - stop parochiaid! Proposal C assures the people of Michigan that public monies will be spent in public facilities and under public control. It also guarantees that the citizens of this state will not be forced to pay for the support of religions they may not agree with.

There is no question that the anti-parochiaid amendment does exactly what it was intended to do - stop all schemes and devices used to subvert the intent of our Michigan Constitution which reads: "No money shall be drawn or appropriated for the benefit of any religious sect."

The advocates of parochiaid realize this and have used every possible propaganda technique to camouflage the central question. They have utilized fear and scare tactics coupled with doomsday predictions which insult the intelligence of Michigan citizens. It is most interesting to note that they never mention the $22 million appropriated for private and parochial school this year or the acknowledged parity goal of $200 million down the road.

The citizens of Michigan may not have another chance to vote on the use of millions of tax dollars against their will.

No one denies the right of parents to choose non public schools for their children. Equally basic, however is the right of other citizens not to be taxed for that choice.

Proposal C will prevent endless duplication of school systems that are sure to develop when the state becomes a partner in financing them.

Parochiaid will drive but another divisive wedge into a society which is already being torn apart by extremists groups. The future of America does not lie with further segregation of its children by religion, race, sex or economic status. Let us preserve our common schools as well as religious freedoms by voting "yes" on Proposal C.

-Ken Carman, M.D.

Other services would be lost, say opponents

On Sept. 14 the Michigan Supreme Court made two important decisions. The court ruled that the state could provide limited assistance to non-public school teachers who teach secular subjects. The program is legally in effect retroactive to Stipe 1.

The court also ruled the people will vote on an amendment to the Michigan Constitution to repeal parochiaid and a number of other services to non-public school children.

What are these other things that will be repealed unless the voters in Michigan vote no on Nov. 3? That's the question that everybody is talking about. Just how far does proposal C really go? Frank Kelley, state Attorney general, Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, the State Board of Education, Gov. Milliken and Democratic gubernatorial candidate Sen. Sander Levin all agree that Proposal C goes too far.

In addition to repealing parochiaid, Proposal C means at least this: that 274,000 children attending non-public schools will lose the following services: 1) remedial reading, 2) speech therapy, 3) counseling for the mentally and emotionally disturbed child, 4) visiting teachers for the delinquent.

In addition, passage of Proposal C could mean the loss of street crossing guards as well as health and nursing services such as eye and ear tests and immunization shots.

For non-public school children who attend public schools on a part-time basis, it will mean the loss of: 1) drivers training, 2) vocational education, 3) shared time arrangements whereby non-public school children spend part of their day in public schools.

The attorney general and the state superintendent of public instruction have also indicated that $60 million in federal funds for educationally deprived children attending public schools could well be jeopardized. Dr. Porter explains that federal law requires that public school district must guarantee non-public school children can participate in federally funded programs for the disadvantaged before they are eligible to receive grants. Unable to give this assurance, Dr. Porter said these funds might be withheld from Michigan.

Kelley also stated, he his personal view, that property tax exemptions would not be lost but went on to say however, "a literal reading of the amendment enables a valid legal question to be raised about the possible loss of these exemptions in a court of law." If the courts sustain such a ruling all but a few of non-public schools would be closed in a short period of time.

Undoubtedly it is for these reasons that both gubernatorial candidates in Michigan, both U.S. Senator candidates and the State Board of Education and a host of Michigan's leading citizens oppose the amendment. On Oct. 1, an organization entitled Michigan Citizens Against Proposal C was formed.

Proposal C is more than a bad proposal, it's a boomerang.

1. It will deprive thousands of children of needed remedial services;
2. Endanger loss of federal funds for public schools;
3. In most major metropolitan areas, unless Proposal C is defeated, it would place a severe strain on already overcrowded classrooms in public schools;
4. Substantially affect every taxpayer in Michigan.

Let's examine this last point. Just what would the economic impact be unless Proposal C is defeated. Let's consider these facts:

1. One out of 8 children attending schools in Michigan now attends a non-public school;
2. There are over 800 non-public schools;
3. These schools are attended by 274,000 children;
4. These schools save Michigan taxpayers $274 million in state and local taxes each year. Unless Proposal C is defeated, Michigan will suffer approximately a 20 per cent increase in corporate income taxes to absorb these children in public schools;
5. This is only half the cost. The other half ($137 Million) will have to come from increased local property taxes.

After studying the fact, most people realize what a tremendous tax saver's bargain these non-public schools are. I don't think they are going to kill the goose that lays the golden egg worth $274 million each year. That's why I'm convinced the overwhelming majority of Michigan's citizens of all races, religions and national origins will vote no on Proposal C on Nov. 3.

-Kay Beard

Between the lines

Study issues, candidates

Next Tuesday should be one of the most important days in the lives of all who are old enough to vote. What we do or don't do in the Nov. 3 general election will have some bearing in all phases of our future community growth and progress in residential living.

During the past several weeks and especially in these closing days of electioneering, candidates seeking local, state and county public offices have aired their views and in some instances their specific aims and goals of their campaign platforms.

We urgently request that qualified electors take time out from their daily chores to make a comprehensive study of what has been said by area candidates.

We ask voters to consider the pros and cons of candidates' views on local issues and then make their decision on their choice of administrative and government leaders by getting to the polls and vote.

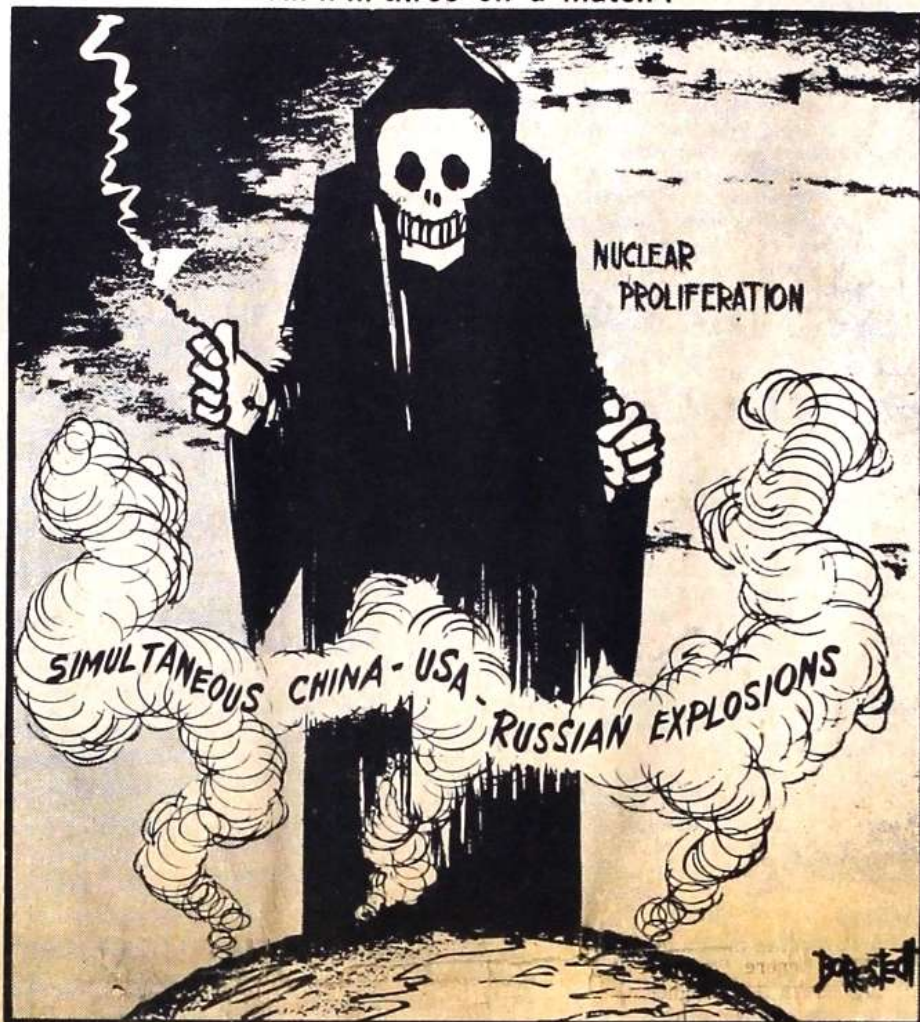

Voters will be going to the polls to elect a governor, U.S. Senator, representatives to Congress, legislators and many other officials running for important state, county and local offices.

Also voters will decide the fate of three state proposals—a proposal to authorize bonds for low income housing, a proposal to change the minimum voting age to 18 years, and "most important" a proposal on a proposed Constitutional amendment to prohibit public aid to non-public schools and students.

In my opinion, Proposal A and Proposal B should receive voter approval and Proposal C rejected.

If the voting in the Nov. 3 balloting is a repeat of recent past elections when a relative small percentage of voters, who were eligible to vote, took time out to go to the polls, then we all should be ashamed.

'Ah-h ... three on a match!'

Tennessee Sen. Gore has lot of momentum

By Charles
Bartlett

MEMPHIS, Tenn. - The "grey fox", as Sen. Albert Gore is known in Tennessee this fall, has not shaken his conservative pursuers but he is giving them a run hard enough to make survival seem possible.

Gore has struggled so fiercely in what seemed earlier to be a hopeless situation that he has softened the sentiment against him. His exertions have probably not put him ahead of Rep. William Brock but they have brought him within striking distance. He is going into the climax of the campaign with a lot of momentum.

Some associates of John Hay Hooker, the Democratic nominee for governor, urged him to jettison Gore after the Senator's poor showing in the primary last August. Hooker observed, "If they get Gore, it will be only a matter of time before they tear me apart," and he refused to cut loose.

This was extremely shrewd because the best hope for both candidates lies in the unity which adversity has forced upon them. Although the Democrats final poll from Oliver Auayle shows Hooker running slightly ahead of his opponent and Gore slightly behind his (with a large undecided vote), Gore's campaign appears at the moment to have more buoyancy than Hooker's.

Assumptions that Hooker is invincible have been softened by the chemical appeal of his opponent, Dr. Winfield Dunn, and by clever Republican use of the Democrat's misfortunes in the chicken franchise business. "I'm going to send you back to that dentist chair in Memphis," Hooker tells Dunn but like Gore, he has emerged from the shadows and victory is possible.

Sentiment in Wallace county, the suburbs where they are turning cotton fields into shopping centers and golf courses, had not apparently yielded to Gore's campaign. A poll of 40 persons (12 Republicans, 13 Democrats, and 15 independents) in Raleigh, a working class section on the edge of Memphis, showed only 4 votes for Gore and Hooker.

This group voted 12 for George Wallace, 23 for Richard Nixon, and 4 for Hubert Humphrey in 1968. Thirty of the 40 declared themselves pleased with Mr. Nixon and 25 had good words for Spiro Agnew. Their voting intentions have been shaped by dislike for Gore and their hospitality is largely inspired by their feeling that he has let them down on racial issues.

Sometimes this disappointment is bluntly put. "Gore is a nigger-lover," said the newsdealer in Jackson. But more often the complaint is veiled. "They don't know what they're mad about," said a Gore supporter from Dyer County. "They've swallowed this stuff that he sold the state out but for the life of them they can't explain it."

The incredible irony is that a millionaire's son from Lookout Mountain has managed to persuade these people that he is closer to their thinking than Gore, who came, like them, from a lean rural background. They have bought the slogan that "Bill Brock believes in the things we believe" without examining it too closely.

It is not all race. There are issues of spending and the war plus the Supreme Court and school prayers which neatly fit Brock's presentation.

Gore is defending a philosophy which he formed in a long struggle to emerge from rural poverty. Brock is expounding the viewpoint of a generation which has had prosperity thrust upon it. Gore's resurgence means that Tennessee is holding to some its old values.

By HENRY CANTIN

To ignore one of the most important franchises available to qualified citizens—the power of voting—is a major sin of citizenship. In the Nov. 3 election there will be, I am sure, defeated candidates, as in past elections, who will in citing reasons for unsuccessful campaigns list inadequate coverage by the news media.

We have encountered candidates who have failed to air their views through the newspapers. And in some instances candidates have ignored requests for their backgrounds and opinions.

In the writer's opinion, voters in the main will not vote approval of a candidate who remains silent on important issues of an election campaign.

In the few remaining days prior to the election, we asked area voters to study the qualifications of office seekers and their platforms. Remember the government of those who are elected will affect the lives of area residents for years to come. In any event, please be sure to vote.

Community School program has merit

To the Editor:

The Huron School Board of Education was not content merely to provide the traditional accepted K-12 program for the school age persons in the district. Instead they adopted a program which could be used to promote the welfare of the whole community. This program is called the Community School and has been very successful in its first three months of operation.

One major need within the school district was high school completion program for adults. Eighteen classes were offered with 375 persons enrolling. The ages of these people range from 16 to 73 with men and women from all areas of the district responding.

Another area of need within the school district was to provide a building where persons could expand their horizons through enrichment classes.

Twenty-one enrichment activities are available to the persons living within the district such as: sewing, bridge, recreation, community band, metalworking, etc.

By opening the school doors in such a manner the schools provide more economy of operation by providing many more hours of use without costing a dollar more of tax dollars. It saves the people living within the district the expense of driving to outside cities for evening activities and gives people an opportunity to meet others from the district that have similar backgrounds and interests.

Some other objectives of the Community School program which are presently being developed are: Big Brothers, drug program for adults, drug program for junior high students, and sex education for adults.

The Big Brothers program is designed to meet the needs of boys without fathers. Divorce ends one marriage out of every 2.5 or three marriage. This alarming problem reaches to the very roots of many of our personal and social ills.

Frequently we hear educational, legal and social experts say, "It is just magic these Big Brothers work with their little brothers."

The adult drug program and the adult sex programs are designed to illustrate to adults methods to better enable them to communicate with their children in these problems and to educate themselves with new problems in today's teenage society.

The community school program is always looking for new areas of community service. If you have any ideas for possible classes or programs should call Roger Benner at 782-1436.

Our thanks to Roger Benner, Community School director, for making this program a success.

Woman seeks help finding fender bender

To the editor:

On Tuesday, Oct. 13, at some time during the day, my car, a 1969 blue Chevrolet Impala, fender was crushed. The party did not leave a note.

As a recent widow, I have to work and park there every day and don't need this aggravation.

I work in a local store and treat the customers with regard. Why can't the people that use the lot have the same for someone else's car?

This same kind of thing has happened to others. Could it be that it is free parking and nobody cares?

If some one saw this incident happen, please tell the local police. A reward for your effort.

Urban renewal procedures explained

by HENRY E. GRAPER
Garden City Federal Programs Director

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles written by Henry E. Graper Jr., Garden City federal programs director, in which he explains the processes of seeking a grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Renewal for urban renewal, studying land use and development of the property.

In the first of three parts to an explanation of urban renewal, I explained the procedural steps of survey and planning. In this portion I will cover acquisition of project property and demolition of structures, and disposition of property to redevelopment.

Upon completion of survey and planning the city compiles all of the resolution, studies and analysis concerning the project and submits this material to the regional office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for their review and comments. Upon completion of this review it is forwarded to Washington for approval and permission to proceed with acquisition, demolition and disposition.

I want you to understand that no timetable can be imposed upon a project from this point further due to the fact that it can take as much as one year for the government to review the above mentioned material and then submit a contract to the city allowing them to proceed with acquisition, demolition, disposition.

When the city receives permission to go ahead with the three steps mentioned above they begin that phase of an urban renewal project which is more commonly known as "The executive phase," that is, we will execute a contract with the federal government for a loan and grant which will allow enough money to carry out this project through its conclusion.

When the local director begins acquisition he reviews the first and second acquisition appraisals which cannot be more than one year old and have been prepared by two independent appraisers. Upon completion of his review the director presents a list of prices which he feels are the highest prices which can be offered for each parcel in the project to the mayor and the city council for their approval.

Upon approval from the mayor and council, he then begins to negotiate with each property owner for the purchase of their property. The government has stated in many directives that a director of a local project must execute every effort within reason in trying to negotiate a purchase of the project property before he allows the local attorney to begin condemnation proceedings.

Milliken deserves full four-year term

Gov. Milliken deserves a full four-year term. His record in two years in office. His potential during a period of social explosion and uncertainty points to greatness requiring a state but strong hand.

He wrote one of the finest records of legislative leadership of the era and toiled for four years in the political shadow of former Gov. George Romney as his lieutenant governor.

Milliken is being challenged by State Sen. Sander M. Levin (D-Berkley), a tough and brilliant leader of the loyal opposition whose major claim is that he can do what Milliken is doing — but better.

Thrust suddenly into the governor's chair on Jan. 2, 1969, Milliken took control. Under his leadership, the state is moving ahead on controlling crime; low income housing projects are getting a start; drug abuse is being attacked; pollution of the air and water is being abated — and all of it is being done with poise and wisdom.

Levin has made a major campaign issue of the bill which reduced the property tax credit on the state income tax to raise $92 million. He called it an actual tax increase that "nobody could detect," and said it was a political gimmick engineered to get more from the taxpayers in April, five months after

Nov. 3 — rather than imposing an increase in the state income tax which would be immediately felt.

If there is any substance to the charge, Levin and had to be the only one among 148 legislators and — through the press — millions of Michigan residents who didn't know what was going on.

Milliken's leadership is real and it has been tested. Levin has been a state senator for six years and how he would react in the executive office is unknown. We don't have time to experiment.

In another executive office, we endorse State Sen. Emil Lockwood (R-Elm Hall) for secretary of state over Wayne County Auditor Richard H. Austin, the only black on either ticket. Lockwood has been in the Senate since his election in 1962 and knows how to get things done.

Panax endorses Democratic Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, who has held the office since 1961 and has made it into a powerful force under the law for the public good. His Republican opponent, attorney William S. Farr of Grand Rapids, is young and sincere, a man of potential in politics but not against Kelley this year.

Lenore would be better if she had opportunity

Mrs. Lenore Romney's campaign is the embodiment of the hopeless hope, the shallow miracle that went awry in the celluloid of practical politics in Michigan, 1970. Her anticipated defeat Nov. 3 is shocking to contemplation.

Despite her political reality, Mrs. Lenore Romney is our choice for the United States Senate.

We believe she would provide a fresher, more consistent approach to the troubles of the times and pursue a clearer, less doctrinaire route toward our national goals. Her only weakness is her failure to grasp the slick techniques of campaigning.

Pre-election indications are that incumbent Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart will be elected by near landslide proportions to his third six-year term in the greatest public forum in the world. That Mrs. Romney did not make a stronger challenge is a reflection only of bumbling staff work, not of honesty, integrity and potential.

She took strong positions on the major issues — Vietnam, drug abuse, the withdrawal of troops from Cambodia — and called for a restructuring of our national priorities. Hart campaigned only perfunctorily, realistically confident that his incumbency would be preserved for another six years despite the record.

Hart, a beneficiary of the Democratic era of the 1950s in Michigan, has not acquired the coattails of a political leader largely because of his inconsistency in Washington and his philosophical movement leftward and back again. Where he stands at any given moment appears to depend on whose trumpet he heard the moment before.

Hart changed his mind from pro to con on the government's development of the supersonic transport. His position on Vietnam has wavered with the breeze.

There were charges made that Mrs. Romney was hitchhiking on her husband George's name as governor of Michigan, that she was politically naive and inexperienced. The charges say only that she was not learned in the slick and phoney way of what politics has become.

Her campaign was handled by political amateurs more accustomed to selling suits and new automobiles. Mrs. Romney remains throughout the concerned woman, impressively aware of the issues, but was out-slickered accidentally by her staff and purposely by her enemies. She fell into traps made by others.

Some day there will be room in the United States Senate for a Mrs. Lenore Romney. That will be when candidates are weighed more by what they are than by what high priced advertising men feel they must sell.

Thus we endorse Lenore Romney, a woman who would be a good senator if there were more to electioneering than selling suits. The reality persists.

This then is an endorsement of Lenore Romney and what might have been, but it is also a warning to heart that the people back home demand something more than they received in the past 12 years.

Swainson, Dethmers rate as top Court hopefuls

Michigan's seven-member Supreme Court is where the buck stops. It is here that the laws passed by the legislature and signed by the governor come for final judgment, where they are interpreted and polished for application.

The Court must thus reflect a reverence for what Michigan has been, what it is now, and what it inexorably will become as a result of the pull and haul of the times.

We urge voters to maintain this balance on the court by electing CIRCUIT JUDGE JOHN B. SWAINSON and re-electing JUSTICE JOHN B. DETHMERS for eight-year terms starting Jan. 1, 1971. Two other candidates are Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins and former Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Swainson has a better grounding in the role of state government, its pressures and capabilities than any other candidate. He has been a state senator, lieutenant governor, governor and a circuit judge — all three branches of government since 1956. He is 44.

Dethmers has been on the Supreme Court for 24 years, twice having served as chief justice. He is a strict constructionist of the constitution and, over the years, has expressed dismay at the directions the Court has moved on social issues. He is the highly regarded balance wheel on the court.

Piggins proposed court reforms included elimination of the right to appeal in criminal cases, a step backward even to the most caustic critic of the social order. Williams, the Democratic governor from 1949 to 1960, has had little official contact in the state since that time except for his campaign in 1966 for the United States Senate against Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin.

Piggins has more time on the Wayne County circuit bench than does Swainson and once was Detroit police commissioner. We conclude, however, that Swainson's background is more meaningful to the task at hand than is Piggins.

Williams has had no judicial experience and worked on cases as a lawyer only during brief periods in federal and state positions.

We agree with all the candidates that nomination of the justices by political parties, their subsequent exile to a nonpartisan limbo, and their election on the scale of popularity rather than their qualifications constitute farce and fraud.

It is necessary for the voters to dig deeper to overcome the idiocy of the nominating process. We have, and we endorse Dethmers and Swainson.

Voters will be asked next Tuesday to elect two members each for the State Board of Education, the University of Michigan Board of Regents, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees and the Wayne State Board of Control.

Prior to the state party conventions, Panax newspapers urged each delegate to determine the qualifications of the candidates, to judge carefully those who would seek to guide the troubled colleges and universities.

We said that too often one of the most important political selections is based on rewarding political hackdom, on name identification — upon election of Republican or Democratic bodies. We said we didn't believe that the system could produce the quality of candidates required.

Nothing that the parties accomplished in their state conventions changed any nuance of that indifference.

The educational board nominees in 1970 are the same prior assortment of football players, rah-rah types, ethnic whomen both parties must woo, labor union spokesmen and others.

Until the people in their wisdom place more importance on the nominating and selection process for membership on these vital boards, we'll decline to make endorsements.

A BIT CHEERIER — In compliance with a business office request that school cafeterias be made to look a bit cheerier, the Denton Elementary School came up with a decorative wall design. Students Judi Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joh Jones, 6216 Denton Rd., and Rod Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunham, 5873 Deller Rd., work on a cooking assignment. Mrs. Ruth Bogardus, cook, and Robert Ligaj, art teacher, supervised the decorating project.

Denton cafeteria wall decorated

It can never be said that the Denton Elementary School does not rise to meet the occasion.

Recently, Irvin Von Destinon, business manager for Van Buren Public Schools, sent a communication to all cafeterias in the school system asking them to decorate a little bit to make them look a little cheerier.

Mrs. Ruth Bogardus, cook; and Robert Ligaj, art teacher, decided to meet the challenge by decorating the cafeteria wall.

School principal William S. Chizmar said, "They did a superb job. It's things like this that make my job a pleasant one. The people of the community and the staff are continually meeting and surmounting every major challenge they face."

Malnourished Americans

Malnutrition among American children of the poor results in apathy, listlessness, loss of energy and ability to concentrate and comprehend, inattention and restlessness, behavioral problems and retarded learning. These were the findings of the recent Senate Hearings in Hunger, chaired by Senator George McGovern. There is also evidence of lowered resistance to disease and infection and general mental and physical growth retardation.

There are 38 million "poor" and "near poor" Americans living in families with incomes falling below the minimum established as necessary to provide nutritionally adequate meals, according to Social Security Administration estimates. Because lack of nutrients retards learning capacity and thus affects adjustment and future employment possibilities, attaining adequate nutrition is a key factor influencing the happiness and well-being of these Americans.

Important for building and maintaining body tissues, protein is a must in the diet.

Ground meat, like more costly cuts, helps to satisfy the family's protein needs, whether in form of meat loaf, beefburgers, spaghetti sauce or chili.

Witch readies for annual school visit

Each year for the past eight years, Mrs. Milton (Dorothy) Embhoff of 166 Chaney St., Belleville, has become "Winnie the Witch" at Halloween time.

In this guise, she visits students in all the elementary schools of the Van Buren district from kindergarten through third grades wearing the familiar witch costume she made with black flowing cape, pointed hat, grey scraggly wig and witch mask, she gives each student a Halloween treat.

To do this, she gives up two days of work as a bus driver for Van Buren schools and spends her own money for candy for the youngsters. They identify her with the cartoon film strip "Winnie the Witch".

This belief has been passed down from sisters and brothers in families so that it has become traditional to expect her visits.

This year, the "Belleville Area Lions Club" is happy to assist her by supplying the candy for her annual visit to the schools. The club feels that it is heartening to know that there are still individuals who will still work for their fellow man with no thought of materialistic returns.

Chivalry decoration goes to Belleville lady

Several people from Belleville travelled to Grand Rapids recently to see Mrs. Bedia Woods honored for her outstanding work as an officer of Astral Rebekah Lodge No. 250 of Belleville.

Meritorious service and the nomination of other Lodge qualified her for the "Decoration of Chivalry." Mrs. Woods, a local resident for many years, is active in many other clubs, as well as the Rebekah Lodge.

The 66 recipients of this award were attired in white formal and were preceded into the hall at the Grand Rapids Civic center by an honor guard of Patriarch Militants, attired in their uniforms.

Passing under an arch of crossed swords, the ladies were then introduced by the Commanding General of the Patriarchs Militant.

The Decoration of Chivalry symbolizes virtue, modesty and purity and was presented this way: A young boy, about five years old in age, handed the pins to four little girls, also about five years of age, dressed in white.

They in turn pinned the decoration on the ladies. The young children take part in the ceremony because they are presumed to be free from sin and therefore worthy to handle the award.

Since the occasion took place during the annual session of the Rebekah Assembly, many dignitaries of the Oddfellow Order and many Rebekahs were present.

It was the 126th annual session for the Oddfellow Grand Lodge of Michigan and the 86th Annual Session for the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan.

Among those present was the Grand Master of the World, who came from Australia to be present at the assembly.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

In the presidential election of 1948, about half the people eligible to vote went to the polls. By and large, our voting record compared with other countries has been and is a national disgrace. Great Britain shows almost 80 per cent. France 77. Italy 94. Belgium 85. Netherlands 94. Norway 78. Denmark 80. West Germany 88. With little Luxembourg as high as 97 per cent. If we have as much as 50 to 55 per cent, it is considered good.

The ballot box is the best instrument to attack the problems of our time; the best way to improve the calibre of candidates; the best way to legislate and clarify issues. Actually, our greatest single right as individuals is the right to vote. Should that right be refused or taken away, we would have anarchy at its worst. Yet, through the years, we disrespect that right through apathy, indifference, inertia and even boredom. Why? Can you explain it?

Van Buren voters to pick township officials

Van Buren Township's registered and qualified electors will go to the polls in the November general election and decide who will run their government for the next two years.

The voters will choose a supervisor, clerk, two trustees, treasurer and four constables.

In addition to casting ballots on local candidates, voters will decide on candidates who seek state, county and U.S. offices.

Current voter registration lists stand at 5,156, an increase of 225 voters over the August primary.

Candidates seeking the approval of Van Buren's electors are members of two opposing slates with the exception of the Democratic candidate for township clerk, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne. She is running independent of any slate.

Democratic candidates seeking election and who are members of the Bly Slate headed by Rodney A. Bly, 37, of 11929 Rzyr Dr., a newcomer on the political scene of the township are:

Mrs. Julia Sawmiller, 51, a secretary, of 774 Sumpter Rd.

Frederick P. Birk, 36, incumbent township treasurer, seeks re-election. He has been treasurer since 1963. Birk is not affiliated with the Bly Slate.

Mrs. Payne, 49, of 7129 Beck Rd., who is not on the Bly Slate, seeks another two-year term. She has been township clerk since 1963.

Republican candidates seeking to replace the Democratic hold over the township have united under the leadership of George Elton Gollwitzer, 59, of 44345 Harmony Lane, a retired industrial firm official, who is running for his first political Edgedale. He is running for township treasurer.

Mrs. Patricia Cullin, 40, of 13375 Lenore, mother of four children. She seeks one of the two trustee posts.

Dominick W. Blend, 65, retired executive from Calumet & Hecla, Inc. He resides at 11696 Juniper Dr. He is running for trustee.

Mrs. Gladys W. Baldwin, 50, also a mother of four children, seeks voter approval for township clerk. She and her husband reside at 12044 Rzyr Dr.

Less than half of the township voters went to the polls in the August primary. Vote registration drives brought an additional 225 vote registration by the Oct. 2 deadline for registration.

Candidates from both parties urge an all-out vote by the township's eligible voters in the November election.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and all in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be permitted to cast their ballots.

INTEGRITY

AS THE CAMPAIGN for Van Buren Township offices draws to a close, it was with sincere regret that the Pro Team received a letter which read as follows:

"BLY PLANS SOME DIRT IN MAIL"
Signed: "An Ex-Bly Fan"

The Pro Team feels that personal assaults such as were published in the primary, some of which -- due to their inaccuracies -- were later publicly retracted, are not in the best interest of improving our Township government.

Regardless of the outcome of the Nov. 3 election, we must work together if a better Township is to result. And to slander one another only serves to divide us and, hence, serves no useful purpose.

Consequently, the Pro Team would rather believe that the above letter is incorrect and that the Bly Slate will not feel compelled to resort to "gutter politics."

In any event, the Pro Team wishes to publicly announce at this time that, regardless of what the Bly Slate does during the last days of the campaign, the Pro Team will remain PROfessional and WILL NOT resort to ANY kind of personal attacks on any Bly Slate members.

Rather, the Pro Team will continue to publish facts on the issues before the voters as it has done throughout the campaign.

The election, supervised by Miss Carol Sitko, government teacher, was held last Thursday.

Mahalak of the 38th district received 265-136 verdict over Republican opponent, Dale C. Wagenknecht. Democratic State Sen. William Faust beat Republican candidate, Anthony A. Bielecki, 306-103.

Lawyer points out Proposal C issues

Stu Hubbell, prominent lawyer, was guest speaker at an open meeting at St. Aloysius Catholic School, 373 W. Columbia Ave., Oct. 19. His subject was the currently controversial proposal C amendment to the Parochial bill.

Also attending the meeting was state Representative Edward E. Mahalak of the 38th District.

Some of the points brought out by Hubbell and Rep. Mahalak were as follows:

"Paragraph A of Proposal C would outlaw any and all public funds for the nonpublic schools. Paragraphs B and C go one step further. These paragraphs would deny the use of public funds for teaching nonpublic students either in the nonpublic school or any other public institution where instructions in whole or in part is offered to nonpublic students.

"This would eliminate shared time programs such as drivers education, vocational education, mathematics, etc. This also would eliminate such auxiliary services as speech correction, visiting nurses, remedial reading, etc.

"Paragraph C states there would not be without any exceptions whatsoever—tax exemptions allowed.

"We must translate this to mean therefore that even real estate tax exemption, which we rely on heavily to help keep our schools open, would no longer be allowed, and we know if this were to happen our nonpublic schools — be they Catholic, Lutheran, Methodist or whatever—would no longer be able to operate.

"The important issue here are the students who are being denied their fair share of the benefits to which they are entitled. And after all what the whole thing is about is to ensure that each and every child has the same opportunity to develop himself to his fullest potential.

Five races face voters in Huron

Contests for supervisor, clerk, treasurer and two positions on the Huron Township Board of Trustees will be decided by Huron Township voters in the Nov. 3 general election.

A political newcomer, who upset incumbent Supervisor George Angel, in the August Republican primary, Douglas C. Rhoads, 29, of 22150 Otter Rd., New Boston, seeks voter approval over his Democratic opponent, James L. Krause of 35867 Violet, New Boston, for the post of supervisor.

Krause is currently serving as township treasurer. In the contest for township clerk, Mrs. Wilma J. Wilson, Republican incumbent seeks re-election. Her opponent is political newcomer and longtime township resident, George W. Moore of 36980 Ellis Rd., New Boston. The Republican candidate for township treasurer is Edward Helwig of 32593 West Rd., New Boston. He is opposed by Democratic Richard J. Frankowski, of 2104 Rush Rd., New Boston. The nominees seeking two four-year trustee terms are Republican incumbents Roy C. Raker, 17340 Wahrman, New Boston, and William J. Geirmann, 45, of 1319 Will-Carlton Rd., Carelton.

They are opposed by Democrats Harvey Carey, 32624 Kind Rd., New Boston, and Edward Duecki of New Boston, a writer-in candidate. Russell J. Wilson, husband of Mrs. Wilson, is running for constable on the Republican ticket. He is unopposed for the only post available.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. In addition to the local contests, Huron resident will vote on national, state, county office seeker, three state propositions and choose among the candidates running in the non-partisan judicial races for the State Supreme Court, State Court of Appeals, Wayne County Circuit Court and District Court.

Gollwitzer, Bly answer questions

Approximately 300 Van Buren Township citizens got to hear both sides of the race for supervisor last week when Rodney Bly and George E. Gollwitzer both explained their views at "Meet Your Candidates" meeting at Belleville High School.

Gollwitzer, leader of the Republican slate, covered various aspects of township affairs centered around 11 basic questions presented by the Van Buren Township Civic Association.

The meeting was a continuation of the association's policy of public service.

William D. Ford, 15th District Congressman, last week visited the Van Buren Democratic headquarters in Belleville.

Ford stressed that, as the final few days of the campaign approach, the need to make the issues known to the public is very important.

The Democratic party has an obligation, he stated, to inform each qualified voter of the position the Democratic candidates have taken on the state and local issues.

Trionfi runs wild against Tigers

Allen Park routs Belleville

Belleville's sputtering football machine ran smoothly for nearly 30 minutes before it faltered again against a highly touted Allen Park squad Friday night before Tiger Homecoming fans.

Coach Keith Emerson's boys ran out of gas, as the sports cliché goes, and dropped a 20-7 Suburban Six Conference decision to the unbeaten league leaders. The loss shoved the Tiger's record to 2-4 for the season with the Jaguars headed home with a 5-1 record-all record. Don Trionfi put on a "fantastic" performance as he ran wild for 201 yards and three touchdowns to lead his unbeaten league team.

Trionfi set the tempo of the game on the Jaguar's first play from scrimmage when he hot-footed it 81 yards for a touchdown to give Allen Park a 6-0 advantage at 7:41 of the first period.

After that initial shocker the Tiger defense tightened up. In the dying moments of the first half Tiger defender Dave Lorenson intercepted a Jaguar pass and carried it back to the AP 42 yard line where Belleville worked it down to the one yard line in nine plays.

Garrade Pettus, the Tiger workhorse halfback, bulled his way over for the touchdown with 31 seconds left in the half.

Steve Billings converted the extra point and Belleville gave its homecoming crowd a 7-6 halftime score to cheer about.

The second half was a completely different story however, as Allen Park came back to take a 12-6 lead when Trionfi scored his second touchdown from five yards out.

Trionfi did it again — third time in the final quarter from the six. Don Nolan ran the ball over for the extra point and Allen Park led 20-7.

Offensively, the Tigers found their star running back, Pettus, boxed in most of the night as the Jaguar Defense double teamed him. Despite all this unwanted attention, Pettus still led all Tiger rushers, but with a sob par 47 yards.

Defensively, the big man for Belleville was Tony Ogletree. He led the team in tackles and on several occasions he stopped Jaguar runners from breaking clear.

"The problem is that we aren't consistent," coach Emerson noted. "We get good individual efforts at times, but nothing consistent. This was so obvious in the way we dominated the second quarter and then lost the momentum in the last half."

"That first touchdown run broke our backs. Trionfi is the best back in the league and their fullback, Brian Lott, is just about as good."

Friday the Tigers travel to Trenton for a conference battle beginning at 8 p.m.

Emerson said, "Trenton is 3-1 in the league right now and it should be a tough game. If we get a good effort from our people we can take them. But in order to win we must be consistent."

Thieves have own homecoming

By TOM MOORADIAN

Gridders apparently weren't the only ones running wild Friday night at Garden City East's homecoming game - the thieves apparently also held their homecoming the same night.

How many times have you heard over a high school loud-speaker during a football game: "Ladies, please hold on to your purses, there have been numerous purse-snatching reports."

My first experience of such an announcement came at the Lighted Field and it sort of caught me by surprise. No, I'm not that naive - after covering police beats for over a decade - I do know what the score is. But, I thought football games was for watching football players and pretty girls (if you're a boy) and enjoying yourself.

But times have changed, haven't they.

With homecoming, as with the case of at East High, usually comes floats, pretty girls and the excitement of crowning the Homecoming Queen. The coveted award, however, almost remained "unawarded" as the announcement of the winner was delayed considerably because the emcee had misplaced the envelope bearing the winner's name.

(Oh, what comic relief)

"The winner is," declared the voice before it realized that there was no envelope in sight with the Queen's name on it. "The winner is," reassured the voice as the beholder fumbled in his pockets seeking the sacred envelope.

"Do you want me to tell you who the winner is?" asked another gentlemen in the Press Box.

"No, no," replied the emcee. "I'll find it."

"Hey, don't you know who the winner is?" quipped a fan as impatient fans and the candidates focused their eyes on the Press Box, eagerly awaiting the answer.

After five minutes of careful investigative work and perusing everything in his pockets, the emcee turned a toapile of papers in front of him and emerged with an envelope clearly marked "The Queen".

And with a sigh of relief that quickly broke through his bearded face, the emcee announced again, "the winner is" and this time he came up with an answer and the gals on the gridiron broke into tears.

The Fourth Estate and cake, too

East's football team, however, didn't keep its homecoming folks in suspense. After faltering in the second quarter and letting Taylor Center cut its 20-0 lead to 20-14 half, coach Gary Humphrey's Panthers struck early in the third quarter for a touchdown to assure themselves of a 26-14 victory.

That was six in a row for East. Do you fans realize that East is on the verge of a perfect football season. And the Panthers are being ignored by the Associated Press' high school football poll. We're going to have to do something about that.

And we're glad that East athletic director, Len Barthlo has done something about the conditions of the press box. He has brought a semblance of order to this season. In previous years it was difficult, to say the least, there to cover a game from the Press Box because of the flock of fans who would congregate there.

Barthlo has cleaned that out, giving members of the fourth Estate, including myself, a place to sit and write.

Now if you guys could only bake a cake like Mrs. Len Natkowski --- you'd really be on the ball!

Tiger harriers perfect

The Belleville High cross country team has just finished its first undefeated dual meet season in 16 years not since 1954 have the Tigers accomplished that "impossible dream."

During the past week, the Tigers dumped Ypsilanti and Trenton to end their dual meet portion of the season. The win gave the Tigers a 10-0 record.

In the Ypsilanti meet, John Cross finished the Huron course in 12:53. Cross' run was a course record and his time lowered the previous record some seconds. Cross also finished first in the Trenton competition.

Phil Combs as usual was right behind Cross in both meets.

Tigers John Cicotte, Roger Thomas, and Lonnis Clark added fourth, fifth and sixth places to the Tiger point total. Gary Refittie placed third in the meet with Trenton and eighth against Ypsilanti.

All that's left now for coach Ken Head and his runners are the real big ones. The Tigers are preparing for their Suburban Six Conference Meet which they need to win to clinch the championship. And from thereon, Belleville will be after a regional crown before going on to state competition.

Romulus Jr. High team is unbeaten

Look to Romulus Junior High School, Eagle football fans, and take heart. The junior high school squad streaked to its third successive victory last week at the expense of Rouge 20-0 to remain undefeated on the gridiron this season.

In their previousouting, Romulus Jr. High overwhelmed John Hill 44-0.

Fullback Dirk Green provided all three Romulus touchdowns in the Rouge shutout as he plowed over from the seven, 15 and eight for scores. He also scored a two-point conversion.

While Green streaked across Rouge's goal line, the Romulus defense held the Panthers deep in their own territory most of the game. In fact, Ken Russman's punts kept the vanquished inside their 20-yard line three of the five times he had to kick.

Gary Helton aided the Romulus cause with an interception.

It also was a no contest for Romulus against John Hill who saw Mike Tomblin use the airways on three of their six touchdown drives for perfect strikes.

After Mike Wade scored the opening touchdown, Tomblin teamed up with Donnie Moore for touchdown passes of 40, 47 and 57 yards to turn the game into a rout.

Tomblin also went in on a 42-yard jaunt which he pulled off on a deceptive keeper. Elmer Champagne scored the sixth TD on a two-yard plunge.

Green chipped in a couple of conversions and Wade also scored a two-pointer. Helton contributed the final two-points.

Emerging with stellar defensive performances were Gerald Diepenhorst, who intercepted two delinquent passes, Steve Sorello and Kenneth Russman.

Romulus shut out by Ann Arbor

Romulus' Flyers could not land a victory last Saturday against the Ann Arbor's Junior Wolverines who shut out the local Little Leaguers in all three contests.

The Varsity surrendered to the Wolverines 22-0 while the Reserves dropped a 20-0 contest and the Freshmen, though they scored once, were not able to overcome a 18-third quarter and fell 18-6.

Arch-rival Belleville is next in line for the Flyers who will host Sunday's games beginning at 12:30 p.m.

STALLED JAGUAR — Belleville's Mike Dansard (38) puts an immediate stop to Allen Park's Don Trionfi's bid for more yardage against the Tigers in the above play Friday night.

Trionfi, however, got up and scored three touchdowns to lead the Jaguars to their fourth Suburban Six Conference victory in as many starts.

Rouge cools Romulus

By MIKE HENDRICKS

Romulus may not have won its homecoming game, but it was a contest that few fans will never forget. What got the fans excited in the second half was the winning senior class float, which was literally fired up for victory.

The float caught fire shortly after the second half began and it burned for nearly 45 minutes before the Romulus Fire Department could extinguish the flames.

Back on the field, the Eagles however were not quite as impressive as the sideline show. Romulus was handed a blistering 36-8 defeat by River Rouge in a game that was ended early when the referees decided it was too dark to continue.

The defeat lowered Romulus' record to 1-5 for the season. It was the Eagle's fifth straight loss after downing Inkster 14-12 in the season opener.

Perry Gray was the "Big Eagle" this week as he accounted for all eight points by catching a 44 yard pass thrown by Keith Simmons in the third period. Gray also caught a two yard pass from Ken McMann for the two point conversion.

River Rouge opened up the scoring with a 67 yard pass play in the early moments of the first quarter. Panther quarterback Len Coleman connected with William Boswell on the scoring play. Gary Durham ran the ball over the point conversion and the visiting Panthers led by eight points.

Eight minutes later the Panthers made it onto the scoreboard a second time when Gregory Reeves ran the ball in from the 11 yard line. Reeves led all rushers with 137 yards in 11 carries.

The Panthers failed to convert the extra point and the half ended with Rouge ahead by a 14-0 count.

On the second play from scrimmage in the second half Eagle back Brent Hamilton broke loose to streak 49 yards before he was dragged down at the 20 yard line. It was at this point that the sideline fire disrupted the game and when play was resumed the Eagles' spark had fizzled.

The delay didn't seem to hurt the Panthers any as they roared back with a 68 yard run by Reeves for another six pointer.

Just 75 seconds later, the Eagles responded with the ## Chiefs stuck in 3rd Huron nips Jefferson

Monroe Jefferson may have won only one game this season, but to play against that Huron Conference club is an unusual experience as Huron coach Lee Smeltzer and his Chiefs will attest.

Huron defeated Jefferson 22-14 in a Saturday afternoon battle at Monroe.

The Jefferson, led by quarterback Ed Antaya and receiver Chet Wilhelm, concentrated on the airways in their attempt to upend the third-place Chiefs. Antaya filled the air with passes as he made good on 18 of 40 attempts for 242 yards. All of Jefferson's points came via passes of 46, 35 and two yards from Antaya to Wilhelm. Both Jefferson's scores came in the last period of play.

It was also a big day for Huron running back Glenn Dregansky as he accumulated 154 yards rushing in his best offensive performance this season.

Dregansky put the Chief's on the scoreboard in the second quarter when he capped a 32 yards drive by taking the ball into the endzone from one yard out. Tom Umin ran the extra point and Huron led 8-0 at halftime.

The third quarter was scoreless and in the final stanza Dregansky broke loose for a 47 yard gallop into the endzone for his second six pointer of the day.

Seconds after Dregansky's touchdown Huron defender Rick Tipper intercepted his second pass of the game and ran it back 56 yards for the Chief's final touchdown. Butch Suennick linked up with Umin on a two yard pass play to make the two point conversion and end Huron's scoring for the contest.

Coach Smeltzer cited the defensive play of Tipper and Suennick who both made two pass interceptions each. Tipper accounted for nine tackles which was second to Bill Rupe who led Huron with 12 solo tackles.

Friday is homecoming for the Chiefs. They will take on winless Harper Woods in a non-conference tilt.

'Quackser Fortune...' is liltin', warm, tender

UMC Pictures presents a Sidney Glazer production, "Quackser Fortune," directed by Mel Howard and John H. Cushingham, screenplay by Gabriel Walsh. Color. Rated R. At the Studio-8 with the following cast: Gene Wilder, Margot Kidder, May Ollis, Seaman Ford.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Quackser Fortune is a rugged individualist, following behind the delivery horses of Dublin with cart and shovel, gathering manure to sell as fertilizer to customers on his route.

"Quackser Fortune Has a Cousin in the Bronx," despite its title which has to win the year's cutest award hands down, is an engaging picture, chiefly because of the amiable talents of the star Gene Wilder. No, Quackser isn't his real name, but he used to make noises like a duck as a baby and the nickname stuck.

Quackser is an elemental. He isn't overly bright and his language gets a bit crude, but he is proud and determined. He is especially determined not to work in the dingy, Dickensque foundry where his father works. His self-made job comes complete with a gay tune, fresh air, and plenty of food and other attractions from the ladies along his route.

replace all the horse-drawn wagons in Dublin with trucks. The second is a pretty young girl from Connecticut with the equally improbable name of Zazel Pierce who is studying at Trinity College and takes a fancy to Quackser.

The essence of this thoroughly British movie, and much of its charm, is the staunchness of Quackser's backbone. He can be laughed at—indeed, one of the longest sustained laughs in years occurs when Quackser, having carefully spread his product in a customer's garden, sits down to eat his lunch without washing his hands, casually unconcerned.

But he defies his critics firmly. Invited to a formal dance by the occasionally impetuous Zazel, he purchases a white tie and tails for two shillings from a stall, gets drenched in the rain and emerges like Prof. Irwin Corey on one of his off days, where he is promptly mistaken for a waiter. But, buffeted and physically assailed, he never loses his sense of his identity.

Gabriel Walsh's screenplay is occasionally too casual but the cast, Margot Kidder as Zazel, May Ollis as Quackser's dour father, shore up any passing uncertain moments.

But Wilder himself is the film's chief virtue. "Quackser" and his previous films, "Start the Revolution Without Me" and "The Producers" prove that Wilder would have done very well indeed in silent comedies. His face is mobile and expressive; he need not say a single word to win an audience.

Despite a contrived ending—his American cousin serves as deus ex machina and dies leaving Quackser $500 just when the departure of the horses have forced Quackser into a seemingly inescapable corner—"Quackser Fortune Has a Cousin in the Bronx" is liltin' and warm and tender.

Staging lacks passion in Actor's Studio drama

Actor's Studio presents "Yerma," a poetic drama in three acts by Federico Garcia Lorca, directed by R.J. Perry, produced by Al Wyatt, lighting and sound by D. Schmeier, musical director Steve Rishel. At the Actor's Studio with the following cast: Sandra Vanderpool, Ray Hylinski, Margaret Harvey, Bill Colone, Judith Dila, Carol Case, Lauri Hauser.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

John Gassner has suggested that, with the possible exception of Synge, nobody has brought beauty and poetry onto the stage as has Federico Garcia Lorca, the greatest of Spanish playwrights.

Surely, for example, there is no more haunting a curtain speech than the one in "Blood Wedding," which includes these lines: "With a tiny knife that barely fits the hand, but slides in clean through the astonished flesh and stops at the place where trembles, enmeshed, the dark root of a scream."

In a bitter and childless house. At first she feels guilty because she does not love her husband very physically; hers was an arranged marriage. But she is a proud woman and scorns an affair.

Juan, her husband, becomes increasingly bitter at the lack of response from his wife and increasingly jealous as he suspects she may be looking elsewhere. But at last Yerma's obsession for a child drives her to the truth—Juan is to blame, caring only for the comforts of his marriage and seeking none of the responsibilities. In a fit of passion, she strangles him.

"Yerma" is a more dramatically mature work than "Blood Wedding," if not as image-filled. But it has passion, great gobs of hot-blooded, proud raw passion. And this is what is missing in Perry's staging.

The poetry is there, you can't miss the exquisite unfolding of the melody, tastefully unfolded to the accompaniment of somber Spanish guitars. But the fire is lacking in a lethargic, low key performance that stirs nobody.

Only Ray Hylinski as the husband is able to arouse himself to any degree. Sandra Vanderpool is a wooden Yerma.

The Studio, which opened last year with cast including many Hilberry Theatre notables, has now settled down to basically being a teaching school. Most of the cast were young and "Yerma" is admittedly a difficult work for such an inexperienced cast. Perry is, nevertheless, to be commended for aiming high.

In 'Move' at the Fairlane

Arrival of mover like waiting for Godot

20th century Fox presents the Pandro S. Berman-Stuart Rosenberg production of "Move", directed by Rosenberg, produced by Berman, screenplay by Joel Lieber and Stanley Hart from the Lieber novel, music by Marvin Hamlisch. Panavision, De Luxe color. Rated R. At the Fairlane

Theatre with the following cast: Elliott Gould, Paula Prentiss, Genevieve Waite.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

The complexity of modern society and the problems of some poor schnook in trying to cope with, say, a moving company has long been a favorite theme of the films—can't you imagine an Alan King monologue on the subject? But seldom has the imminent arrival of a mover been treated with such dire import as in "Move."

Elliott Gould's newest nemesis is no ordinary mover. He's the ultimate assailant in a world full of-for Gould, at least—assailants. Never seen, never arriving, at first making excuses for not showing up at Gould's old apartment while the landlord insists that Gould was supposed to be out today.

An arrival has not been awaited with some much expectation since this moverable to track Gould down supernaturally and at last stealing his furniture—is more than mortal, as are all Gould's oppressors real and fancied. You can tell a modern movie by its cinematographics. Modern directors no longer tell their cameramen, "Shoot that." They look for artistic innovations, like fast cuts and slow motion speed. It must be conceded that director Stuart Rosenberg is at least innovative, his perspective not always predictable. Nobody has ever shot a telephone operator through the plug on her switchboard before.

But modern movies are developing cliches entirely apart from their physical aspects. There is the cliché of personality. All modern protagonists—it would be unfair to call them heroes—have to be alienated. A touch of kindness helps too.

And yet Gould is kinky. He hasn't had relations with his wife, Paula Prentiss, in months yet managed three helpings in a few minutes from a girl who meets him on the street in search of an electrician to solve a blown fuse problem. The girl is Genevieve Waite, still the seductive ingenue of "Joanna."

"Move" is often funny and occasionally pointed, especially when the talented Miss Prentiss is center stage. But beyond repeating a message of frustration and alienation which has been thoroughly stated in at least a dozen other movies the past couple of years, it doesn't say too much.

And isn't that what show biz is all about today—relevance?

This is a phenomenon frequently observed by neurosurgeons. The male, newlywed numb-arm syndrome. The young man sleeps with his arm under his wife's head. He does not want to disturb her by moving it. Symptoms of poor circulation result. You may be interested to know we consistently bump into this numb arm among from the Carroll Righter Institute

General Tendencies: A day and evening to wind up whatever has been in effect with other persons so that the slate can be cleaned for new actions that is soon to be a part of your everyday existence. Let companions know that you have valued their alliance and that you want further contact with them for best results.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to cooperate with others and in this way get a good deal accomplished today. Explaining your position first will lead to fine understanding. Then carry through in a positive fashion.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have been busy getting things improved. You can complete the work today nicely. Talk over new plans with co-workers, also. Going off on any tangents could prove harmful now.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You are able to get into the pleasures that really please you and give you enjoyment you have not had in a long time. Go along with the ideas of loved ones. Show devotion to mate this evening.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) There are some differences to be worked out at home and you should not procrastinate any longer. Being appreciative of what kin have done for you is wise. Stop acting in such a stubborn way.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Your associates have excellent ideas for the days ahead, but it is necessary to finish present duties first. Show more enthusiasm in your routine work and all is fine. Forget going off on that tangent you have in mind.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handling financial affairs, taking care of property, improving it, etc., are all fine today. Make sure you get everything caught up with before starting on some new venture. Avoid extravagance.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Going out for recreation is fine, but first take care of those personal chores that have to be done sometime. Eliminate whatever is old and replace with the new. So as a result, you add to present happiness.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Those personal chores you have to handle are best done by making a game of them; then they are not as boring. Plan a more efficient way of operating for the days ahead. Show you are intelligent, witty.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You must get busy and finish responsibilities you now have before you can go on to new and more fascinating ones. Get good advice from a higher-up. Follow through on this but use your own judgement where necessary.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put through those plans that will bring about a more interesting and ideal set of circumstances in the days ahead. Complete old obligations quickly. Get into the facts and figures accurately.

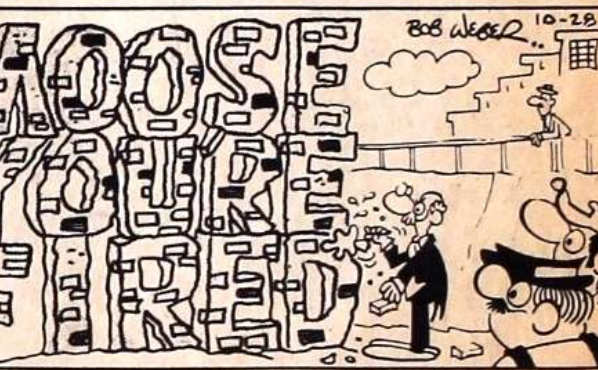

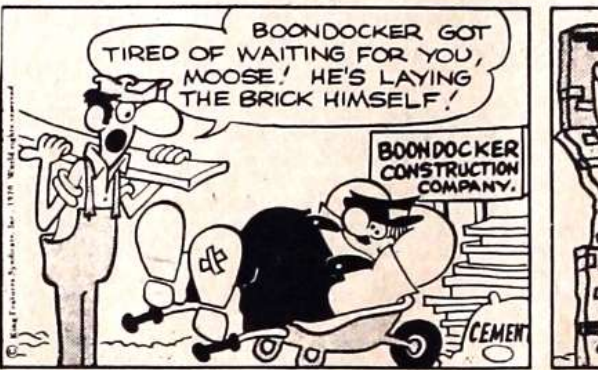

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have been procrastinating in doing whatever is necessary to improve relations with associates, so get busy now doing just that. Being courteous and thoughtful toward others is important. Get ahead faster.

If your child is born today...he or she will be one of those interesting young people who is charming and sympathetic toward his fellow man. An ideal chart for such business professions as dealing with or in jewelry, linens, or whatever is both a luxury and a necessity with others. There is a fine ability at whatever is of a precise nature here, and also much graciousness.

Our readers write

Oakley's dual posts questioned by reader

To the Editor:

The readers of The Romulus Roman read Attorney General Kelley's statement concerning the legal status of Councilman William M. Oakley in relation to his dual position with that of the school board seat he holds.

As a reader and as a citizen of this community, I thought and wondered about the complexity of this problem, due to the legal and moral issues that are involved.

Why didn't Mayor Hyle Carmichael, or even Mr. Oakley, check this pertinent fact out before running for the position of Councilman since Mr. Oakley already held an elected position?

Did the mayor, did Mr. Oakley and did the people helping their campaign for election in May, 1970, assume the legal status of this problem?

Is that the leadership that the people of Romulus have elected—one that assumes rather than finding out the facts and truth of any issue or problem?

The mayor headed the "I.Q." Slate—Intelligence and Quality! Where was that intelligence not to have read the City Charter beforehand and to seek that information from the attorney general's office beforehand? Where is that quality in not informing the people of this community what problem was at hand?

Did the people, and the administration, have to wait almost six months before finding out the truth? To top it off, this information did not come from the administration, but rather from other citizens requesting this information from this district's state representative.

This is the second time that the present administration has failed in its responsibility to the people—to the electorate—to inform and to seek vital information pertinent to the issues at hand.

As my interpretation of Kelley's letter says, Mr. Oakley lost his school board seat the day he was sworn into office as councilman of Romulus.

Does that mean that all issues which Mr. Oakley voted upon as school board member since that time are challengeable? Does it mean that all expenses incurred by Mr. Oakley on the school board since that time are refundable? What does it actually mean?

Does it also mean that the administration will hold back information from the citizens of this community? Does it mean that the administration will not seek that which has to be sought after?

Where is that common sense needed so badly throughout this nation, and in our city? Where is that leadership that is needed to portray the intelligence and quality that the people want and desire? Yet, what will occur now? Nothing has been mentioned in the paper about any steps to correct this apparent gross oversight on the part of the administration, the mayor, and Mr. Oakley. Where do we go from here?

Complaint against coach misdirected

To the Editor:

Belleville has absolutely no recreation facilities for the children, outside of school activities and scouts. A few men in town have taken over the tremendous responsibility of coaching and supervising boys in little league football and baseball.

I have always admired these men. They give of themselves unselfishly to see that the boys have an activity. During the season of the sport, every week day and every weekend is tied up in this activity. This means a great personal sacrifice to them and their families. This is a work for which their only compensation is the knowledge that they are doing something to help the boys and their community.

In last week's paper, you published a "letter to the editor" on a complaint of a parent, on the conduct of a coach.

There is no excuse for bad conduct especially when witnessed by children, however, I was appalled to find such a letter in print, publicly slandering the name of a good citizen, who but for this one incident, has done a good job for boys of this community.

Is this to say that any letter sent to the editor of the Belleville Enterprise will be published, regardless of personal attack and humiliation? If the parent had a complaint, it should have been made to the coach, not the whole community.

How will we ever get volunteers for community service if they are publicly chastised?

EMU graduate lauds Gollwitzer's stand

To the editor:

I am a recent graduate of Eastern Michigan University. I majored in political science and did the major part of my work in local and municipal government.

In recent years, I have watched Van Buren Township's government and I have become very skeptical. Our leaders are failing to meet the contemporary demands of our community. This is singularly tragic when you consider that township government is more basic and effects us more, as citizens, than Washington D.C. or Lansing.

Our government is now in a period of turbulence and controversy because it lacks leadership, salesmanship and professionalism. Realizing the plight of our government, I decided to get involved in the current local elections.

I can frankly admit I was objective in my selection of candidates. I observed both the Bly and Gollwitzer teams. I read their literature, their news releases, and obsequiously followed their campaign. It did not take me long to realize that the Gollwitzer team must be elected. It is incumbent that this team be elected because they possess all the qualities of leadership that the Bly team lacks.

The Gollwitzer team possesses leadership, salesmanship and above all professionalism.

The word "Pro" so often used in the Gollwitzer campaign is not a political euphemism to fool the voters. It is a term that totally describes this team of dedicated and cognitive individuals.

One only has to listen to Mr. Bly to understand why I cannot support him. His recent statements indicate he lacks the understanding and foresight to be an effective supervisor.

Mr. Gollwitzer, on the other hand, is a deliberate and intelligent thinker who has spoken carefully and prudently on all the issues. He is a man that all people find easy to like and respect.

Our township, considering the candidates, would indeed err if it did not elect the Gollwitzer team on November 3. We voters have a clear choice more of the same or new vibrant leadership. The choice is ludicrously simple—The Gollwitzer Team for 1970.

Delayed enlistment available

Summer has just ended. Yet the Christmas holidays are less than three months away. The Thanksgiving recess is only two months off.

For young men who are contemplating entering the armed services, the U.S. Army offers a unique opportunity to enlist now, yet spend up to 120 days — including both the Christmas and Thanksgiving holidays — at home before reporting for active duty.

Those are the words expressed by Sgt. Rolland Adams, local Army recruiter whose offices are located in the Wayne Post Office.

Under this option, known as the Army's 120-Day Delayed Entry Program (DEP), the young man enlists, then is placed in a reserve status for a period of up to and including 120 days before being ordered to active duty and reporting to a reception center.

Enlistees under the DEP may still choose from almost 300 job training and service schools if they are qualified. Such assignments for qualified applicants are guaranteed in writing before they enlist, Sgt. Adams declared.

Further information about this program — and the many other programs is available by contacting Sgt. Adams. If you wish to call he can be reached at 722-3388.

Romulus Jaycees contribute $100

The Romulus Jaycees presented a $100 check to the Summer Headstart program last Saturday.

Mrs. Lorena Burton, state and federal coordinator for the Romulus Community Schools, accepted the check from Jaycees Ronald Collins and Gary Johnson, earmarking it for follow-up health and psychiatric services for the 30 children who were involved in the summer program.

UNICEF drive slated

Instead of a Halloween night drive the Huron Junior High Student Council will conduct a classroom drive and solicit funds for UNICEF at Huron Homecoming during halftime, co-chairmen Anne Dugan and Jennifer Shaw announced.

Area residents are asked to "help children help children" by giving donations to UNICEF at the Huron Homecoming Football game at Maveal Field.

Band boosters set meet

The Romulus Band and Orchestra Boosters is seeking more members from among parents of students in the Romulus Instrumental Music Department.

All interested persons are urged to attend the club's next meeting — set for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 in the high school band room — to get acquainted with the group and its goals.

Members attending the school year's first meeting Oct. 8 took part in a round-table discussion with Gideon Petway Jr. about the band and its activities. The scheduled election of officers was postponed until the November meeting.

Denton PTO sets cakewalk

The Denton Elementary School's Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) is holding a cakewalk Monday.

The proceeds will go to buying turkeys for Thanksgiving Baskets for needy families in the Van Buren School District, Principal William S. Chizmar reported.

The teachers sponsored a similar drive last year and had a smashing success. However the PTO felt that it was too much to ask the teachers to do all the work. A donation of one can of food per person will be requested for admission to the cakewalk. The food will be used to fill the baskets and make someone's Thanksgiving a truly thankful one.

"We might be the smallest school in the district, but we've got the biggest heart," stated Chizmar.

Hayti PTA hears about Proposal C

Proposal C on Nov. 3 ballot, or "Parochialism" was the topic when Hayti Elementary School PTA met Oct. 19.

Program chairman, Mrs. Carole Rarick, introduced guest speaker, Dr. Kenneth Carman, secretary of the Garden City Board of Education.

Dr. Carman, a practicing physician, is the author of "Crusade in Michigan-The Parochial Story" and a member of the Wayne County Coordinating Council Against Parochialism (ACP).

Edward Doerr, managing editor of Church and State magazine, published by Americans United for Separation of Church and State, accompanied Dr. Carman.

According to Mrs. Rarick, the group was impressed with Dr. Carman and his point of view. Questions asked by the audience pertained to the amount of influence citizens would exert over expenditures of tax dollars by parochial schools and whether they could sit on boards of education for private schools.

Room count was won by Miss Ginny Smith's second grade and refreshments were provided by Mrs. Amy Jones and Mrs. Eleanor Anderson's first grades.

Morris speaks to PTA

Carl W. Morris and Gerazio Canejo, president and vice president of the Romulus Board of Education, were special guests of Harrison Elementary School PTA on last Wednesday.

More than 100 parents and teachers attended the regular monthly meeting to hear Morris speak about the school district, its problems, and accomplishments.

Teachers present were honored with corsages or boutonnieres, said Mrs. Tressa Rohde, president.

A $5 award and PTA attendance banner went to Miss Jean Wegienka's morning kindergarten for having 15 parents attend the meeting.

Mrs. Rohde said future plans include a Dad's night, scheduled for Nov. 18. Co-chairmen, William Kemp and James Justice are in charge of a buffet style pot-luck supper that will find Harrison PTA dads doing the setting up, serving and dishwashing.
